Glorious New White Carnation

"Frosty"

What are the colors I like best?
I think I like them every one,
But some of course there really are,
A little better than the rest.
There's blue—sky blue and other blues,
And yellow—many varied hues,
And green, and red, and autumn brown,
And others, yes, of great renown;
But after all is said for those
(I'm sure you'll say I'm wholly right)
There's one that beats them all by far,
And that is snow-pure, frosty white.

Special! Carnation Frosty

Here's a brand new, beautifully formed, snow-pure white Carnation. Order it now, show something in your garden that your neighbors do not have.

Note also the small splashes of yellow near the center. All in all, Frosty is a charming flower; very beautiful and fragrant.

No picture can show its pure whiteness and lovely texture.

Hardy—everblooming. Tall, straight stems. Starts blooming 8 to 10 weeks after planting, continues until stopped by frost. Often 18 to 20 blooms on a plant first year.

Strong, pot-grown plants furnished.

Maiden Blush New Pink Carnation

Cultural Note:

Plant all Carnations 15 to 18 inches apart in well-drained soil; ordinary moisture and sun. Mulch after ground is frozen. Avoid peat moss.

For years we have been watching for a flower that would merit the name Maiden Blush, and now we have found it and with Camellia-type blooms.

The color of Maiden Blush Carnation is beautiful clear pink, but it shades and fades from light to dark and almost white with a fascinating blushing effect. The picture shows the beautiful and unusual Camellia-type form of the petals.

Like all our other hardy Carnations, Maiden Blush produces an abundance of blooms: 30 to 40 open on a plant at one time. It will give you hundreds of blooms in a season if properly picked. Fragrance mild and sweet. Healthy, vigorous, upright, hardy. Lives through sub-zero winters.

DAZZLER

Richly scented flowers of clove-like fragrance—so enticing you cannot resist them. Color—crimson of almost unbelievable brilliance. Dazzler starts blooming 8 to 10 weeks after planting and continues until stopped by frost; long-lasting beauty in your garden. And, each plant has 40 to 50 blooms open at one time! Goodness knows how many there are in a whole season—we've never counted—but there must be hundreds! Grows 15 to 20 inches high. Hardy. Will stand sub-zero winters and come up the next year flashing with red that almost glitters. PRICES: Pot-grown plants, 1 for 55c; 2 for 89c; 3 for $1.24; 4 for $1.58; 6 for $2.27; 12 for $4.33.

Carnation American Beauty

This is one of those first-come-first-served flowers. Never in the three or four years we have listed it have we had enough, so order early. American Beauty has beauty, fragrance and color. Flowers large (2 to 2½ inches across), excellent ever-bloomer; starts about eight weeks after planting and continues until frost.

Shasta Daisy Honeymoon

Cultural Note:

Plant in ordinary soil 2½ to 3 feet apart, with ordinary moisture supply. Needs full sun for best results.

Remember Cinderella, the story-book girl, who was so homely? And remember how her fairy godmother changed her into a beauty who married the Prince? That's what has happened to Shasta Daisies. Once very ordinary, they have now been touched by the magic wand of breeders, and here is the result—huge Daisies with blooms up to 5 inches across or more. Pure white, like newly-fallen snow. Centers, golden yellow fringed with green.

Massive display. Late June to August. Hardy. Foliage rich green, upright, healthy. Grows 24" to 30" high. Prices: Field-grown, 1 for 65c; 2 for $1.06; 4 for $1.87.

Don't Overlook The New Carnations: Moon Mist, Frosty, and Maiden Blush. See page 3.

Blue Bonnet (Scabiosa, Isaac House Hybrids)

There are two kinds of blues: the happy blues and the unhappy blues, and any blues you can get into your garden are the happy kind, for blue is only too rare a color among flowers. Yet, you need it to give contrast to the other colors, and bring a bit of the beauty of the sky down to earth.

Blue Bonnet is a flower that will give your garden the happy blues. Its coloring is soft and lovely, and we won't blame you a bit if so many of you make a rush for the plants of this Isaac House, "Blue Bonnet," that we sell out in a jiffy. They start blooming in June, continue until September. Tall stems: 18 to 24 inches high. Plant 12 to 15 inches apart in sun or part shade; ordinary soil; ordinary moisture requirements. PRICES: Field-grown plants, 75c each; 2 for $1.22; 3 for $1.69; 4 for $2.16.

Bleeding Hearts

Now again here are Bleeding Hearts to steal your hearts. These are flowers that have an old-fashioned charm that you cannot resist. In fact, we were unable ever to have enough of them, so we stopped selling completely for several years to build up our propagating supply. And if you will send your order, we feel sure we can fill it. They grow about 24 inches high, and may spread as much as 2 or even 3 feet when full grown. Bloom during May. PRICES: 1 for 85c; 2 for $1.38; 3 for $1.91; 4 for $2.44; 6 for $3.51.

Windflowers

Dainty and winsome, and liberal with their charm. Bloom from September to November, when most other flowers are through. Picture shows pink and white, but there is also a red which is beautiful, and a lavender-pink. Here are the varieties:

Rubra. Red. Queen Charlotte. Pink.
Whirlwind. White. Princess Charming. Lavender.

PRICES: Your choice of varieties: 1 for 70c; 2 for $1.14; 3 for $1.57; 4 for $2.01. Strong, pot-grown plants with ball of earth on roots.

(Armeria Maritima)

It's pink and dainty and charming. Blooms May and June. Grows 4 to 6 inches high. Evergreen foliage. Excellent for borders. Good for the rockery. Easy to grow. Hardy. Plant 10 inches apart. PRICES: Field-grown plants, 45c each; 2 for 73c; 4 for $1.29; 8 for $2.41; 12 for $3.54.

Violet White Wonder

Some say these are prettier than either Double Russian or English Violets, because they show up better among their foliage. They are beautiful, it is true; and we are afraid we are not going to have enough of them. Room-filling fragrance. And the blossoms are nearly as large as the picture, about $\frac{3}{4}$ inch across or even larger under right conditions. 4- to 6-inch stems, dense, beautiful foliage. Good ground cover. Blooming season about the same as Double Russian Violets. PRICES: Field-grown plants, 1 for 55c; 2 for 89c; 3 for \$1.24; 4 for \$1.58; 6 for \$2.27; 12 for \$4.33.

Bright Eyes

Mary Louise

Kellogg's Tip-Top

We have carefully selected the ten varieties for this group, and believe that nowhere will you find anything better. These will color your garden from August to late autumn.

BRIGHT EYES. (Above left.) There have been red Phlox before, but none with the beautiful large florets and dancing dark eyes of Bright Eyes. And none with quite the brilliant coloring. Particularly gorgeous in mass displays. Rapidly becoming one of the most widely planted of all red Phlox. Being a child of the famous large-floreted Daily Sketch, Bright Eyes inherits all the health and vigor of its parent, and the huge florets, too. Prices below right.

PINKETTE. (Not shown.) The beauty of soft-shed light. A soft tinge of color so faint it lends a mysterious excitement to a flower which is really lovely. Dainty, yet strong—its lustrous sea-green foliage boasts supreme health. Gaining in popularity from year to year. Prices below right.

POLKA DOT. (Left.) Lively beauty in a very unusual Phlox which continues to bloom after the other flowers have exhausted their loveliness. Petals have a very slight pinkish tinge, harmonizing the glorious shade of the fuchsia-colored eye. The whole head is beautifully shaped with extra large, overlapping florets. Prices right.

ordinary moisture.

AFRICA. (Above.) Here is a Phlox with a color so mysteriously beautiful that it seems to belong to another world. Amazingly dark carmine-red that can hardly be described. Strong, vigorous grower, healthy and hardy, easy to grow. Far more beautiful than the picture. Prices below.

LILLIAN. (Not shown.) This is the famous blue-eyed Phlox; rest of flower beautiful salmon-pink. Very compact flower heads, with beautifully shaped florets. Very robust, plenty of vitality. Often 12 to 15 flower spikes per plant. Prices below.

DAILY SKETCH. (Above right.) The outstanding feature of Daily Sketch is its extra large florets, 1½ inches across, or more. As large as a good-sized Pansy. None of the older varieties produce florets as large. Coloring clear, beautiful pink with small carmine eye. Does not fade, but stays pure and beautiful throughout. Very long blooming; starts in July and continues until frost. Prices below.

SALMON GLOW. (Not shown.) Here is a shade of deep salmon-pink so beautiful that you will immediately discard all other salmon Phlox. Eye deep carmine. Heads well filled and stately. Foliage healthy and strong. You should have this amazingly beautiful variety. Prices below.

CAROLYN VANDENBURG. (Right.) This is the outstanding dark blue Phlox today, not only on account of its color, but because it is extra large, healthy, vigorous, and productive. The nearest to a real blue. Creates much excited comment. Prices below.

Princess

Here is Princess, the little wonder that started our new line of Front-Liners only two short years ago. A wonderful mixture of glowing colors.

Hardy

Front-Line Azaleamums will live through any normal winter with a reasonable amount of winter protection. Perennial: will bloom following years.

Princess Azaleamum

Plant Patent No. 711

New Front-Line Azaleamums

This is an entirely new group of Azaleamums, and they are so well adapted for planting out in front of the older varieties, being somewhat smaller and lower, that we call them Front-Liners. And really, they almost outdo the older varieties in the great masses of colors that they produce. You would hardly believe that so many blossoms could be crowded onto one single plant. Each plant grows 6 to 10 inches high, and 15 to 20 inches across; larger second year. Here are flowers that will really make your friends and neighbors exclaim with delight. Try them!

Princess

I think I see a gleaming jewel,
Or am I maybe dreaming?
It beams and glows with many hues,
A fairy princess seeming. ©

Picture only gives an idea of the coloring: can't show the brilliance. Rose, orchid, pink, orange, apricot, and yellow all blend together and succeed each other in an astonishing display of glory. Blooms get to be 1½ to 2 inches across; very little, if any, smaller than those of Summer Sunset. Prices at right.

Nugget

Named Nugget because of its golden glitter. Will really add brilliance to your garden—and we mean BRILLIANCE! The yellow of Nugget is bright, clear, and glorious. In fact, we doubt if we have ever seen a yellow that was more beautiful; lasting beauty for your low borders. You will love it among the darker flowers of your garden. Prices above right.

Papoose

Such a pretty little red Indian, that we called it Papoose. Picture shows color—and it blooms like the other Azaleamums: with hundreds of flowers. Will add brilliance to your late summer and fall garden. Prices left.

Honey Chile

I think that I shall never see
A pink that gleams so prettily.

We wish we could really show you and your friends that pink that gleams so prettily, but since we can't admit that the picture is as pretty as the flower, here's an idea: you order, and let your friends admire. Honey Chile is brand new, and with it you'll have an envy-spot in your garden. You do want your friends to envy you, don't you?

Gardenias Yours all winter long (Gardenia Veitchii.) Long considered a hothouse flower, and rare; now you can grow your own beautiful ones, and have them all winter long. We supply Gardenia plants to you out of 2½- or 3-inch pots; you then grow them outside in a sunken flower pot (or a coffee can will do) until fall. In the fall, you bring them in, pot and all, set them in a sunny window, and there you are. That's where they will do most of their blooming, and you get the benefit of their amazing fragrance and delicate beauty all winter long. You can leave them on the plant, or make your own envy-provoking corsages.

Azaleamum • • The Best of

I never thought so many flowers
 Could bloom in one small garden spot,
 I think that I could talk for hours
 Yet never tell the charm they've got;
 Their dainty hues, and varied sheens,
 The way they seem to glow;
 You'll have to have your own, I guess,
 And then you'll really know.

All Azaleamums are healthy, vigorous growers. We ship 2½-inch pot-grown plants. It

Summer Sunset

Azaleamum Summer Sunset, has all the good points of the older varieties plus sturdiness, amazing color harmonies, and large flowers. The constant varying colors: apricot, orange, golden yellow and orchid, provide a never-ending surprise throughout the season. Blooms by first of August or earlier, depending upon season. Prices at right.

Azaleamum, Summer Sunset (Plant Patent No. 561)

Important: The word "Azaleamum" is our trade-mark, and must not be used by any other firm or individual in selling plants of any kind. Most of the varieties of Azaleamums are patented or patent applied for.

Garden Bargains

seems almost unbelievable that they reach such large size, but they do give big surprises. You'll be delighted at blooming time.

Carnation Rose

Here's the newest of the large Azaleamums, lovely Carnation-type flowers, soft rose color, hardy—vigorous, 600 or more blooms to a plant. Grows 2 to 3 feet across the first year with blooms about 1½ inches in width. Like other Azaleamums, Carnation Rose starts blooming in July or August and continues until a severe frost. Prices below.

Important! Azaleamums belong to the Chrysanthemum family but have a peculiar habit of growth similar to that of Azaleas, hence are trade-marked Azaleamums. They are not related to Azaleas.

Summer Gold

For you who like rich glowing yellow, Summer Gold has it in glittering abundance. Flowers large; can be cut for bouquets; you will hardly miss them from the plants, there are so many—a deluge of golden loveliness. Plant this fall for a splendid display next fall. Taller than the others. Prices left.

Hardy Perennials:

All Azaleamums are hardy perennials—live through difficult winters. Bloom even better the second year than the first. However, it is best to give them some winter protection. After the tops have been deadened by frost in the fall, cut them down and let fall over roots. Then add 6 to 8 inches of some good straw material.

Everblooming Hybrid Tea Roses

All fine, high-grade plants, all budded on strong, vigorous, two-year-old, Japanese multiflora roots.

Mrs. P. S. Dupont. (Pictured at left.) All summer this delightful Rose gives you glorious yellow beauty. Good for cutting. Does not fade.

The Doctor. (Pictured at right.) Fine, delicate pink Rose of lovely shape and beauty. Exquisite in every way.

Frau Karl Druschki. (Pictured at left.) Bright hues are fine, but white has a purity and sedateness to it that makes it, after all, one of the best of colors. You need white Roses in your garden and Frau Karl Druschki is the variety. Excellent form.

Other Climbers

You will be glad to have these old favorite beautifiers back again after their war-time scarcity.

Climbing American Beauty. A very fragrant, very beautiful rosy carmine Rose that heaps and piles its blooms all over your trellis, porch, or fence. There is little wonder that it is one of the real favorites.

Paul's Scarlet Climber. A variety that will make your trellis blaze with beauty. Color, intense scarlet. Flowers well shaped, borne on rigid, upright stems.

Primrose. This is the pretty yellow: primrose-yellow; and it is indeed beautiful. Flowers large and well formed; do not fade. Foliage luxuriant and healthy.

Silver Moon. Beautiful white flowers; entrancing fragrance. Fine, semi-double shape; pure in color. A really worth-while white climber.

Flowering Shrubs

The kind that really have flowers—and we mean beautiful flowers, to arouse envy and admiration.

Azalea

(Azalea Mollis). Hardy variety that blooms well and lives through the Northern winters.
Will add unusualness and continual delight to your garden. Low growing; beautiful shape, fine foliage. Burnt-orange, yellow, pink, red, or salmon-colored flowers. May and June.
Hybrids—no color choice. Likes sun or shade.
Grows about 4 feet tall. Plant 2½ to 3 feet apart. PRICES: 1 for $1.40; 2 for $2.27.

Garland Flower

(Daphne Cneorum). The delightful thing about Daphne Cneorum is its wonderful fragrance. Once at a local sale, we placed a blooming Daphne plant in the salesroom.
Customers were immediately attracted to it by the sweet fragrance. Result: soon out of Daphne.

Also, it is beautiful, as shown. In May, plant is just one big gorgeous mass of pink loveliness. Leaves green all winter. Some blooms at intervals during summer, until fall.
Plant 2½ to 3 feet apart; ordinary well drained soil; sun. PRICES: $1.35 each;
2 for $2.19. 8- to 10-inch plants with ball of

Cameo Queen

Azaleamum Bargains

Here are the best bargains of all. These varieties of Azaleamums are the ones that amazed the flower loving world with the almost unbelievable quantities they produced only a few years ago. In addition to the fact that we now offer them at bargain prices, remember that they produce blooms by the hundreds. Customers have reported as many as 2000 blooms on one plant open at one time, and many have produced as many as 800 to 1000 blooms. Prices apply to the following varieties only:

Azaleamum, Cameo Queen. Flowers open deep orchid-pink, then change to light orchid with creamy center, finally salmon-pink with soft yellow center.

Azaleamum, Magic White. (Pl. Pat. 204.) Blossoms first open a very delicate pink, and later turn white with faint yellow center.

Azaleamum, Bronze Beauty. (Pl. Pat. 205.) Flowers appear first as warm, rich, red-bronze, which soon turns to a bronzy yellow with red-bronze center, later lighten to yellow.

Azaleamum, Golden Wonder. (Pl. Pat. 368.) Flowers golden yellow.

Summer-Mum, Dean Kay. Blossoms about 2 inches across; more uniform in color than the others. Long, sturdy stems; more upright. Color: bright pink.

Santa Claus. Grows somewhat taller than the others and is ONE OF THE MOST HARDY OF ALL. Deep red blossoms with yellow center.

GUARANTY

We guarantee stock to be just as represented or orders refilled free; we further warrant all stock to be carefully packed and shipped in good growing condition, and if this stock is properly and carefully planted, watered, and cared for, it will grow and give satisfactory results.

We cannot guarantee continuous growth since this depends upon the care you give the plants, and also upon your local conditions. However, where failure of plants to grow is due to arrival in poor condition, we will replace the unsatisfactory plants without charge providing reports are received prior to June 10th.

No refills will be made for failure of plants after June 10th unless a preliminary report is received prior to that date.

It is mutually agreed that in any event we will not be liable for more than the purchase price of the stock. In case of inability to fill an order, return of the customer's money shall release us from any further liability whatsoever.

PLEASE USE THE ORDER BLANK enclosed with your catalog if you have one. If you do not have an order blank, tabulate your order on any blank piece of paper.

EXPRESS OFFICE. If there is no Express Office in your town, write the name of the nearest Express Office town from you, and also the distance from you on the order blank.

ORDER EARLY and have plants reserved from our estimated supply. As far as possible, orders are shipped in the same rotation as received, within the shipping time for your locality.

SEND MONEY by postal, express, or bank money order, or registered letter. Unregistered currency, sent at your risk. Payment in full should accompany all orders of $5.00 or less. With larger orders, you may send one-third with order, balance when you want shipment. NO C. O. D.

ALL MEMBERS OF A FAMILY SHOULD PREFERABLY ORDER UNDER ONE NAME.

SHIPPING CHARGES. On express shipments, you pay Express Company upon delivery; on parcel post shipments, remit postage after shipment is completed.

IF YOU SPECIFY METHOD OF SHIPMENT, we will follow your instructions as far as possible, but there is a size and weight limit to parcel post shipments; consequently most trees and other large items must go by express.

CANCELLATIONS. We reserve the right to refuse cancellations or changes during the shipping season for obvious reasons. Plants not returnable for credit.

WE CANNOT AGREE to delay shipment beyond May 20. Strawberry plants, May 10.

SHOULD WE BE UNABLE TO SHIP or fail to make shipment for any reason whatsoever, we reserve the right to cancel the order and return the customer's money; and thereupon our obligation ends.

SHIPPING TIME. Orders will be shipped at planting time for your locality. Please do not specify a shipping date unless for special reason other than weather. In such cases we will ship as near as possible to your specified date, depending on conditions here. Again we say, please don't try to guess the weather in advance. It can't be done.

New Strawberry - Nectarena

With a flavor so new and indescribable, you'll say it must have come from another world

Years ago we had a Strawberry variety known as Bedarena, which was lacking in certain important respects; but had a flavor so sweet, mild, and melting that we often remarked: "What a pity we can't get that flavor into a variety like Kellogg's Premier!"

Now, after all these years, the combination has been achieved. Bedarena and Kellogg's Premier, the leading commercial Strawberry, have been crossed, producing this new variety which we call Nectarena, because of its exquisitely mild and sweet flavor.

Yes, Nectarena also has vigorous plant growth, produces over a long period of time, fruits early, is healthy and has the ordinary worth-while characteristics; but its flavor is so outstanding that we are emphasizing flavor almost entirely. Ordinarily, we do not list Strawberry plants in our Garden Beauty Book, but Nectarena is so important that we are breaking the rule. Nectarena should be in every garden, even if you have room for only 25 plants. Nectarena is very easy to grow, and any ordinary garden soil that is well drained will do for it. It will probably be years before you can buy Nectarena in stores; and anyway, who wouldn't prefer their own fresh berries?

"The Key To Strawberry Profits," our book on how to grow Strawberries, free with your order, if you ask for it.

Cultural Note: Grow in rows about 3 feet apart, or you can use Nectarena as a nice ornamental border if you keep runners clipped off. In any event, keep Nectarena in narrow rows. Plant in sun in ordinary garden soil, well drained.

What's Wrong With This Picture?

Here is a picture of beautiful, large, bright red Strawberries. They even look appetizing, don't they? But, there is something wrong with the picture.

The trouble with this particular picture is that it cannot show the delicious taste of Nectarena Strawberries. It may arouse memories in your mind of how ordinary Strawberries taste, but Nectarena has a new taste with which you are not at all acquainted.

The only way to experience the out-of-this-world taste of Nectarena is to order a few, and try them yourself. It's important.

Sh! "Mums" th' word!

Don't tell but here's something entirely new in "Mums." Not an old variety in the group! These six varieties were selected from over 5000 new ones—entirely new—for this collection. All are outstanding varieties, each worthy of a featured spot in your garden. They give you at last a really worth-while collection of Mums.

Usually "collections" are made up from just such varieties as can be picked up here and there, and that do not have a ready sale otherwise. This group is entirely different. It will give you big value for your money, varieties that you and your friends will admire, and that will make them envy your garden. Varieties may be ordered either singly or as a group. This first year, our supply is limited, so
